Heavy Fighting Breaks Out in Cyprus Port

By HAL MCCLURE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Heavy fighting broke out today in the southern port of Limassol and casualties among Turkish Cypriots were reported running high before the British arranged a cease-fire.

The British said it appeared the fighting had stopped at 11:30 a.m. For a time the Greek Cypriots seemed to be on the verge of wiping out the Turks there.

The eruption of fighting broke a cease-fire arranged in Limassol by the British Wednesday night.

Maj. Gen. Peter Young British commander of the Cyprus truce force, had flown to Limassol with the Greek Cypriot interior minister, Polycarpus Yeodajis, to talks to the combatants.

The savage fighting came as Undersecretary of State George Ball again met with President Makarios in an attempt to get his approval of an international force to keep the pace on Cyprus.

Greek Cypriot sources said Makarios had rejected the proposal, but the continued negotiations lent some hope that the Greek Cypriot leader would modify his stand. Ball postponed his departure Wednesday night to continue the talks.

The number slain in the latest outburst of communal violence was not known. The British sent in troops as a last resort to try to separate combatants at Limassol and were themselves fired upon. That is one reason why they want an international truce force.

Little Known Side of Mr. Lincoln Told

On Lincoln's birthday, Wednesday, February 12 members of the John Cain Chapter, DAR, and their guests spent "An Afternoon With Abraham and Mary Todd Lincoln" with the verbal guidance of a Babbi Joseph Levine of the Mt. Sinai Congregation in Texarkana.

The speaker dismissed as propaganda the old beliefs regarding Mrs. Lincoln's mental condition and Mr. Lincoln's romance with Ann Rutledge, and, instead, brought out little-known insights into the character of each. From her ambition to his authority, from her dancing talent to his sense of humor, Rabbi Levine painted a picture of two important people in American history. "They were holding hands at Ford's Theater the night he was assassinated," the rabbi said, "and inscribed in her wedding ring were the words, 'Love is eternal.'"

The Lincoln Day luncheon meeting was held at the Barlow with 58 members and guests present. Red, white and blue flowers, American flags, and appropriate streamers decorated the tables. The Regent, Mrs. George Peck, presented pins to DAR Good Citizens Judy Jackson of Lewisville and Sarah Bagley of Hope, and each made brief remarks of appreciation for the honor.

The Regent introduced her page, Julia "Cissy" Ellis, who will serve at the state convention in Jonesboro this month. All members were urged to attend the meeting. The gift to the chapter of the signature of the first Governor of Arkansas by a descendant, Mrs. Charles Taylor, was gratefully acknowledged. It was agreed to change the meeting date for the local chapter to the third Wednesday of each month. Mrs. Joe Keesey was welcomed as a new member, which concluded the business matters before Mrs. Otis Blackwood, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Turkey Growers to Up Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's turkey growers plan to increase their production by four per cent this year, to 97 million birds, the Agriculture Department reports.

This compares with 93,400,000 turkeys produced in 1963 and with the record production of 108 million birds in 1961. The largest production increase—20 per cent—will be in the South Central States, the department said.

Spa Group Seeks Aid of Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Hot Springs delegation headed by Mayor Dan Wolf called on Gov. Orval E. Faubus today to seek his support for a project to improve the city route of Highway 70.

The road, narrow, winding and dangerous, goes through Gulpha Gorge and connects with Highway 5 which carries traffic on into the city.

B. T. Campbell told Faubus that 30 per cent of the accidents in the Hot Springs National Park in the last 10 years have occurred on this road, which constitutes only six per cent of the total road area in the park. Campbell said the federal government has allocated $100,000 for improvement of the park facilities in Gulpha Gorge but that the park service does not want to start the work until something is done about the road.

Hot Springs interests have been working with the Highway Commission on the project for about three years. Wolf said the road was badly needed "to open up that end of Hot Springs." He said tourists now avoid the road.

Field Mice Halt Japanese Train

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Fourteen passenger trains on Japan's busy Tokaido railroad were delayed from 5 to 40 minutes Wednesday by a malfunction in a railway signal.

Officials found that field mice had gnawed a cable, which got soaked by rain and short-circuited.

Texarkana Vandals

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Vandalism at Spring Lake Park Zoo on the Texas side of this border city has led to the cancellation of plans to build pens to house buffalo and elk. Vandals have burned monkeys with cigarettes, stolen peacocks, run deer into nearby woods, killed chickens and attack a bear with a steel pole recently.

Perhaps Beatles Would Like to Add an American If He Can Meet Requirements

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Fragments of letters people would like to get but rarely do:

"In order to provide a more cozy international flavor to their rock 'n' roll group the English Beatles are interested in adding an American member. We think your 19-year-old son would be ideal — provided you have no objection to letting his hair grow longer. Of course, he would receive only $1,000 a week to start, but—"

"Harry, my conscience has been bothering me ever since I put that measly 25-year pin in your lapel at our last old-timers' banquet. I was wondering if you and the missus wouldn't join me and my wife on a cruise through the Caribbean next month aboard our company yacht. Don't worry about the expenses. I'll argue that out later with the Internal Revenue Service myself."

"That leak you asked me to check in the oil storage tank in your summer cottage isn't a leak at all. That oil is oozing right out of the ground, and the basement already is half full. You don't need a plumber—you need a geologist. Incidentally, my partner and I are willing to offer you $50,000 for the proper-

Rockefeller Backers Would Oust Spicer

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer
Winthrop Rockefeller backers, anxious for a showdown with the William L. Spicer faction of the Arkansas Republican Party, may have overstepped party rules in calling a meeting of the executive committee for Feb. 22.

Spicer, state chairman, was asked to comment.

"Very amusing. No comment," he said.

Rockefeller, GOP national committeeman, was out of the state.

Warren Liebling of Pine Bluff, unsuccessful Republican candidate for Congress in 1962, announced Wednesday that 10 members of the committee had signed in favor of a called meeting.

But a member of the committee, who asked to not be identified, told the Associated Press Wednesday night that an executive committee meeting could not be called unless a majority of the members signed in favor of it "and 10 does not constitute a majority."

The committee normally numbers 21, but has had only 20 members since the death Oct. 12 of W. L. Jameson of Magnolia.

Rockefeller forces called the meeting to discuss whether Spicer has made statements detrimental to the party; to rescind actions at an Aug. 31 meeting in which Rockefeller was censured for usurping Spicer's duties; to rescind a similar action in which the party moved out of the Tower Building in Little Rock, where Rockefeller has his party and private offices; and to approve Rockefeller's hiring of four GOP field men.

The votes on the key issues in the August meeting were 11-10. The death of Jameson, who had been a Spicer ally, left the committee split down the middle between the warring factions.

A cloud of questions hangs over the legality of the meeting. Among them, one source said, is the possibility that 10 signatures constitutes a majority, since the state chairman cannot vote except to break ties.

Another source said no ma-

FT. BRAGG, N.C. — Sergeant First Class Herbert J. Lloyd, of Hope, Ark., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroic action performed last year in Viet Nam.

Sergeant Lloyd served as an advisor to a company of paratroopers in the army of the Republic of Viet Nam for six months last year. While with the company he participated in seven combat operations, including a parachute jump.

In April, 1963, while on an operation with his battalion the Viet Cong launched a heavy attack on Lloyd's company, disrupting communications and, in effect, isolating his unit from the rest of the battalion.

Noting that the friendly artillery fire was having little effect on the Viet Cong, Lloyd raced across open terrain — exposing himself to the fire of the attacking enemy — and reported the situation to the battalion command post.

Having made his report, he returned to his own company and continued to fight. His citation states that his "heroic action served as an inspiring example of bravery to all members of the battalion."

Now a platoon sergeant with Co. "C," 1st Airborne Battle Group, 504th Infantry, 82nd Airborne Division, Lloyd also received a second award of the Army Commendation Medal for his service to the Army of the Republic of Viet Nam. He was cited for volunteering to accompany his company on the most hazardous missions.

Colonel A. E. Milloy, battle group commander, presented the two awards in a brief ceremony last week.

Hoffa Atty. Again Blocks Testimony

By GAVIN SCOTT

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — For the second time in three weeks, James R. Hoffa's defense blocked testimony by a key government witness at the Teamsters president's jury-tampering trial.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson said he would study the matter, but indicated he felt the prosecution still had not laid proper groundwork for the testimony, from Nashville insurance man James C. Tippens.

"If we're not allowed to put on Mr. Tippens," said chief prosecutor James Neal, "We'll have to move for dismissal of count 2 of the indictment—and that's that."

That count accuses Hoffa and Lawrence Medlin of Nashville of offering $10,000 to get Tippens to vote for Hoffa's acquittal, after he was seated tentatively on the Nashville jury which tried Hoffa in 1962 on conspiracy charges. The trial ended in a hung jury.

Tippens was excused from that jury when he reported the bribe offer.

Medlin is not on trial here, but is one of six persons indicted with Hoffa on charges of trying to influence the 1962 Hoffa jury. The charge is pending against Medlin in Nashville; the others are on trial with Hoffa here.

It was the second time the defense had blocked Tippens' testimony.

Called the second week of the trial, he was not allowed to testify after the defense objected on grounds anything he would say would be hearsay—since it was made outside the presence of the defendants.

Judge Wilson held then that Tippens could testify only if the government produced evidence from other sources linking the defendants with the alleged bribery offer.

This the prosecution sought to do through its chief witness, Edward G. Partin, Baton Rouge La., Teamsters official.

Swiss Irked by Soviet Charge About Defector

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP) — Switzerland has sharply rejected the Soviet Union's complaints about Swiss security in the case of a Russian disarmament delegate's defection to the United States.

Rene Helg, president of the Geneva cantonal (state) government, Wednesday called the Russian charges "unfounded, unjust and unfriendly." He said the Russians refused to cooperate with Swiss authorities and even hindered the Swiss police investigation.

Semyon K. Tsarapkin, chief Soviet delegate to the international disarmament conference, accused Western agents of "provocative activity" in the defection of Yuri I. Nossenko, 36.

He has been identified by U.S. officials as an officer of the Soviet KGB security agency.

In a statement to newsmen, Tsarapkin accused Switzerland of failing to provide adequate security for delegates and demanded the Swiss get Nossenko back.

Summoning Soviet Ambassador Alexander Lochchikov to his office in Bern, Foreign Minister Friedrich Wahlen handed the Soviets a stiff protest against Tsarapkin's remarks.

At a news conference in Geneva, Helg said Tsarapkin waited 29 hours before informing Swiss police of Nossenko's disappearance.

Helg declared the Russians refused to give Swiss police a photograph of Nossenko, his birth date or particulars of his background, and refused to allow inspection of his belongings or permit questioning of other members of the Soviet delegation.

Swiss police said Nossenko slipped into neighboring France Feb. 4. There is no indication of his present whereabouts. On Monday, the U.S. State Department announced he had asked for political asylum in the United States.

Western officials regard the defection as a "serious embarrassment" to the Russians and says Nossenko may give the West some important clues to Soviet disarmament tactics.

New Talks Arranged in Cyprus

By ARTHUR R. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — American and British envoys today arranged new talks on Cyprus as President Makarios resisted the West's amended peace plan.

U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball is due to fly to London by Saturday from Nicosia—possibly by way of Athens and Ankara — to confer with Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys and other British government leaders.

Their urgent task will be to work out some alternative scheme for keeping the peace in Cyprus if Makarios stands by his demand for full-scale United Nations' intervention.

Evident failure of Ball and his British colleagues in Nicosia to move Makarios, coupled with new fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, deepened the concern over the island's immediate future.

In Washington, President Johnson and Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, with their foreign ministers in attendance, also considered the problem.

The big issue appears to center on one thing:

Should the international peace force operate in Cyprus under control of the U.N. Security Council as Makarios insists, or under a committee of participating nations, as London, Washington, Athens and Ankara suggest?

The Western Powers are willing to establish a loose link between the international peace force and the U.N. But the arrangements backed by the United States and Britain are designed to prevent penetration of the eastern Mediterranean by Communist influences.

Britain wants help in the police role now handled by about 5,000 British troops.

Receive Opinions on Electric Plant

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Army Engineers received written opinions from several groups Tuesday on plans for installing pumped storage hydroelectric plants on reservoirs near Ozark and Morrilton.

Col. Charles D. Maynard, Little Rock District engineer, said Engineers would study the statements before revealing their contents.

A few persons spoke at the hearing at Russellville. Most of them favored the proposed projects.

Each plant would have a generating capacity of 500,000 kilowatts and would be located on Arkansas River Lock and Dam No. 9 at Petit Jean and Ozark Lock and Dam near Montau Mountain.

Maynard said the Southwest Power Administration plans to market the power by 1970, if the projects are approved. He gave no indication when work on the plants might begin, should approval be obtained.

Arkansas Power and Light Co. presented a brief at the meeting contending that pumped storage facilities are inherently inefficient and the ones proposed by the Engineers would not aid in development of the Arkansas River.

About 80 persons attended.

Rose Is Making $10,000 an Hour

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway showman Billy Rose has been making $10,000 an hour every hour that the New York Stock Exchange has been open since Oct. 15, 1963, his press agent estimated Wednesday.

His huge holdings in American Telephone & Telegraph Co., New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads have risen $4 million in value in recent months.

His long term profits in AT&T, in which he is the largest individual stockholder, total more than $8 million.

Treasurer of L&A and KCS Resigns

KANSAS CITY (AP) — James M. Salter II has resigned as treasurer of the Kansas City Southern and Louisiana & Arkansas Railway companies. He will become vice president and treasurer of the North Kansas City Development Company.

His resignation ends a chain of 53 years in which a James M. Salter has worked for the Kansas City Southern. His grandfather, the late James M. Salter, worked for the company from 1910 until his retirement in 1958. James M. Salter was named to succeed him as treasurer.

Salter, now 31, was then the youngest treasurer of a Class I railroad.

Division St. Elm to Main Is Endorsed

A group of 35 Hope business men representing the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association and Hempstead County Industrial Foundation today voted to request General Service Administration to relocate the proposed $500,000 combination federal building and post office to a downtown site.

The proposed new location calls for an area between Main and Elm streets fronting on East Division. The new site would call for the removal of several brick buildings, some of which have been vacant for months.

The group conditioned their approval of the downtown site, providing that no delay would be caused in construction plans.

The group action took place at a 9 a.m. meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office in which Franklin McFarly, president of the Hempstead County Foundation, led the discussion.

He told of a recent meeting with General Service Administration officials in Dallas, pointing out that Dallas GSA officials had told him that a survey of the new downtown site could be made by April 1, and that it was the desire of GSA to locate the new building where the people wanted it.

Telegrams were being sent today to GSA officials of the group action of the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants Association and Industrial Foundation.

This is the third location proposed for an expanded Hope Post Office project and the announcement apparently contradicts Congressman Oren Harris's telegram published in The Star January 14 saying that the General Services Administration decision picking location No. 2, Laurel and East Second Sts., was "final."

The first location, described as tentative, was announced December 19 as being at Elm and Fifth Sts., and was then endorsed by the City of Hope government.

Pecan Graftwood

A number of people ask each year about the proper time to collect grafting wood. The wood for grafting must be taken when dormant and held in cold storage until used. February is a good month for collecting the wood. Last year's twigs on young trees are most desirable. The twigs should be 3/4 inch to 1 1/2 inch in diameter and contain two or three good buds. They should be tied in bundles and packed in damp well rotted sawdust, peat moss or straw and held at 34 to 40 degrees temperature.

Alfalfa

Alfalfa, sometimes referred to as the king of crops, is on the increase in Hempstead County. Indications are that almost twice as much alfalfa will be planted this year as in past years. The varieties recommended for this area are Cody, Cherokee, Buffalo and Ranger. The dates for planting are from February 15 to April 1 in the spring and from September 1 to October 15, in the fall. At least twenty pounds of seed per acre

Snow, Sleet, Rain in Many Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, sleet and rain covered broad areas of the nation today, with heavy snow across many sections of the Midwest.

A snowstorm that swept across seven Midwestern states, with amounts ranging up to a half foot in some areas, headed into the Ohio Valley and interior sections of the Northeast.

The snow belt covered areas in Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio. Driving conditions were hazardous in many areas. At least four persons were killed in traffic accidents on ice-slicked highways in northern Illinois.

South of the Midwest snow zone, rain extended to the Gulf states, with rain indicated in the middle Atlantic states.

In the West, more snow fell in the southern Rockies while showers splashed along the Pacific Northwest, with snow inland across the Cascade Mountains.

Chester, Pa., Schools Are Picketed

By LEE LINDER

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Picketets marched peacefully around eight predominantly Negro Chester public schools today, protesting alleged slow progress in desegregation.

The boycott, by the Committee for Freedom Now, a local civil rights group, kept many children home, but a school system spokesman said all classes were being conducted.

Stanley Branche, head of CFN, said picketing was the result of what he called de facto segregation, and a failure to improve the physical condition of the schools.

John Vault, assistant superintendent of schools, told a newsman:

"Classes are being conducted in the entire city. They (picketets) expected an absenteeism of teachers today, but attendance is better than usual. Only three regular teachers out of a faculty of 500 are absent. Normal absenteeism is between 10 and 20."

northeast regional director of the Congress of Racial Equality, announced that CORE chapters from New York and Washington, D.C., are preparing for a "freedom ride" on Chester this Saturday.

Smith said the action is "in support of the Committee for Freedom Now," and, if necessary, CORE "is prepared to fill the jails of Chester with thousands of freedom riders."

The picketing was concentrated on five elementary schools, two junior highs and Chester High School. The Negro enrollment in the affected schools—about 500—approximates from 80 to 100 per cent, including the high school.

Chester is an industrial community of some 63,000 people about 20 miles west of Philadelphia. The Negro population is estimated at about 40 per cent.

ment, the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Promotion Association.

Alex. H. Washburn, editor and publisher of The Star, whose building is next door to the present post office site, said the newspaper is strictly neutral in the location fight — but is opposed to any new construction whatever. The government first offered to buy the newspaper building, but Washburn refused to deal.

In reporting today's new development to the Associated Press, Washburn reminded the wire service it had implied the newspaper had quit the post office fight following receipt of news of the General Services Administration's intervention for No. 2 location January 14.

"We merely quit circulating the petition opposing post office construction," Washburn told the AP. "We shall go on fighting the project. The public debt is 42 billion dollars greater today than at the end of World War II. The safety of Social Security and pension funds is menaced — and they are vastly more important to our people than a new political building in our country town."

"We quit on the anti-post office petition because the Washingtonians slammed the door in our face after promising to honor the petition once we circulated it. The General Services Administration 'final' decision for location No. 2 January 14 was announced simultaneously with our statement to the Associated Press that we had more than 1,000 signatures — a majority of any Democratic primary in Hope (the actual count was 1,255)."

"I personally spent $119.50 for petition solicitors and $25 for legal work, a total of $144.50, less a $20 donation, making a net cost of $124.50 — only to have the Washington door slammed in our faces . . . mine and the faces of the 1,255 petition signers."

Cuban Held as Castro Helper

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban exile, said by U.S. Customs Agents to be an arms carrier for an anti-Castro organization, was held today after police discovered 10 cases of bazooka ammunition in his car.

Customs agent W. B. Lankford identified the exile as Juan Miguel Rassi, 21, of the anti-Castro Alpha 66 organization.

Rassi was arrested near here Wednesday night after a Florida Highway Patrol trooper stopped to help him with a flat tire and spotted the explosives. Police also found 24 hunting knives in the vehicle.

Faubus Tapped for His Scout Dues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval F. Faubus told a group of Boy Scouts today that he once picked strawberries and trapped foxes and skunks to earn enough money to buy his scout uniform.

Faubus spoke to the 1963 class of Eagle Scouts from the Quapaw Council, made up of 18 Central Arkansas counties.

The scouts came to the governor's office to present Faubus with a medal commemorating their "Strengthen America's Heritage" program which is being carried on throughout this year.

The governor said that as a youth he did not belong to a regular scout organization because there was none in the rural area in which he lived, but that he joined a Lone Scout Division by mail and did his scouting alone.

Missile lunges Back to Earth

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Minuteman missile plunged back through the earth's atmosphere after a 5,000-mile test flight Wednesday night, firing several rocket-powered dummy warheads designed to deceive enemy defenses.

The Air Force announced the intercontinental range weapon successfully flew its planned trajectory after blasting out of an underground launching silo at Cape Kennedy.

Certain X-ray Drug Taken Off Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Food and Drug Administration spokesman said today a drug, used in taking x-ray pictures of the gall bladder has been removed from the market after apparently being linked with 11 deaths.

The spokesman named the drug as Orablix. He said it was recalled from the market about a month ago by its manufacturer, E. Fougere & Co., Inc., Hicksville, N.Y.

The recall followed approval about a month ago by its manufacturer, E. Fougere & Co., Inc., Hicksville, N.Y.

The recall followed approval by FDA of a request by the firm for withdrawal of its new drug application covering Orablix, which was approved by FDA in 1958, the spokesman said.

The manufacturer adopted revised labels last March at the FDA's insistence, the spokesman said, after reports during 1962 and early 1963 that Orablix had been linked with patient deaths by doctors and hospitals. At that time a warning letter also was sent out by the manufacturer to practitioners, particularly relation to multiple dose usage.

Too Embarrassed to Call Police

NEW YORK (AP)—An old gag tells how a slip of paper in a Chinese fortune cookie reads: "Help, I'm being held prisoner in a Chinese fortune cookie factory."

It happened Wednesday says Robert Grove, 29, who was at such a factory to complete details of his cookie order for a promotion stunt for Buffalo, N.Y., radio station WKBW.

He told police that while he was wandering around the rear of the factory, it closed, and he was locked in for four hours. Too embarrassed to telephone police, he signaled passersby, who called police. They located the owner.

DOROTHY DIX

THEY ALL LIKE SHEEP WHO STRAYED

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: At 22, I am a divorcee with three children. neither I nor they have seen their father for a year and a half. I've met a wonderful man whom I've come to love deeply. He cares for my children as if they were his own and has asked me to marry him.

I long to say yes yet hesitate for one big reason. When a boy, he got into trouble and paid for his mistake with a prison term. That was long ago. Now, he is completely free, has an excellent position and could support us all very comfortably but, by marrying a man with a record would I be giving my children the wrong kind of father? They love him dearly and already call him Daddy.

Should I tell them of his past mistakes, hoping that they will understand enough for us to go ahead and marry, or should I wait until they are older. Actually, they are little more than babies, the eldest being four, the middle one two and the baby who has never known any father, just 15 months. This situation has me going round and round like a squirrel in a cage. What should I do? —Confused

Dear Confused: If you love this man and feel that he has honestly paid his debt to society, marry him and say nothing. The children are too young to comprehend now. Later on, when they are old enough to understand you might tell them, depending upon the circumstances. By then, if this man is all you say he is, they will be so devoted that the truth won't destroy their confidence in him.

Dear Helen: My problem is not unlike many others but that makes it no easier to bear. I realize now that some mistakes can never be rectified. I lived

Mrs. George Newbern, and second high was Mrs. Henry. The players were served coffee, cold drinks, and assorted snacks for refreshments.

Chapter AE of PEO Holds Meeting

Chapter AE, P.E.O., met Tuesday, February 11 in the home of Miss Mable Ethridge and Mrs. W. Y. Foster with Mrs. W. W. Compton as co-hostess. In the absence of the president, Mrs. F. M. Horton presided and heard committee reports.

The annual President's Letter, written by the absent executive, Mrs. Herbert Stephens, was read by Mrs. Horton. Mrs. F. C. Crow read excerpts from the Constitution and By-laws of the P.E.O.

Early spring flowers graced the home, and the hostesses served a salad plate and coffee to 16.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Shields, Jr., Mark and Sandra went to Shreveport over the weekend to visit his parents.

Mrs. Dewey Camp was a Sunday visitor in Magnolia with the Bob Truax family. They were also joined by Miss Kay Camp of Crossett.

Friends will be glad to know that the Rev. Clifton Bell is reported to be doing nicely in a hospital in San Antonio and hope to return to his home in Springdale February 15.

Mrs. W. R. Huddleston has just returned from a weeks visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Medford in Shreveport.

Mrs. Medford returned home with her mother for a visit and attend the wedding of McKee-Osburn.

Italians Get Small Raises

ROME (AP) — Nine million Italian workers are getting 5 to 17 cents more a day because of the latest rise in the cost of living.

The cost of living index for the past three months rose three points. This meant automatic pay hikes for industrial, farm and store employees for the current quarter.

Commission Inspects Coins

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 27-member Assay Commission, which visited the U.S. mint Wednesday day to inspect silver coins minted in Philadelphia and in Denver in 1963.

The commission, set up by law 172 years ago, split into three committees for the day-long testing ritual.

To no one's surprise, the Assay Commission found the coins perfectly sound—as it has for the past 172 years.

Canadian Is Now the 3rd High Scorer
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With the next goal he scores, Bernie Geoffrion of the Montreal Canadiens will become the third highest regular - season goal scorer in the National Hockey League.
Geoffrion scored twice as Montreal blanked Toronto 4-0 Wednesday night, giving him 365 goals, the same number Ted Lindsay had with Detroit and Chicago.
Chicago whipped New York 5-2 in the other NHL game and remained in a first-place deadlock with the Canadiens.
Only Gordie Howe, still very active with Detroit, and the retired Maurice Richard of Montreal are ahead of Geoffrion, whose goals have come in 14 seasons in the NHL.

jority could be reached until it is determined who was elected Jameson's successor at a meeting Nov. 29 at Pine Bluff of GOP members in the 4th Congressional District.
One ballot was taken from the counties of that district, based on the results for the GOP gubernatorial candidate in 1960, and Ike Carter of Benton was elected.
Objections to this method followed, and another ballot was taken, with counties being allotted votes on the basis of the 1962 election. Lieblong was elected this time.
William H. Dunklin of Pine Bluff, 4th District chairman, ruled that the state GOP central committee would have to resolve the dispute. The committee, which numbers about 100, has not met since the election.
"At this moment, pending the central committee ruling, neither Mr. Lieblong nor Mr. Carter is elected," Dunklin said.
Until the central committee rules on the elections, or unless Dunklin changes his ruling, an impasse seems to have been reached.
Spicer is authorized by party rules to call a meeting of the committee, but he has not indicated he is ready to do so.
It is known that Spicer conferred in Hot Springs last week with Henry Britt, unsuccessful GOP candidate for governor in 1960, and that they discussed party rules. Britt, the party's general counsel and a member of the executive committee, also is a Spicer backer.
Lieblong is a Rockefeller supporter, and if it was ruled that he had been elected at the November meeting, he could sign in favor of a meeting and assure a majority.
But confusion reigned Wednesday night when several top GOP members were asked: How is the central committee called?

Girl 10, Has Five Pound Baby
CHICAGO (AP) - A 10-year-old girl gave birth Wednesday night to a 5-pound, 15-ounce girl and became the youngest mother on record in Chicago.
The child-mother, a fourth grade pupil, and the baby were reported in good condition by the physician who delivered the infant by Caesarean section at St. Bernard's Hospital. The child had been taken to the hospital three weeks ago after a parochial school teacher discovered the girl was pregnant.
Hospital authorities said the baby was taken to St. Vincent's Orphanage. They said there is little chance the young mother will ever see her daughter.
A 16-year-old boy was said to be the father.
Health department records show there have been 15 births in Chicago by 11-year-olds since 1950. The youngest known mother on record was a 5-year-old girl in Peru.

Junior Girls Lick Nashville in Dist. Meet

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Writer

Scoring all their points but one in the first and last quarters, Hope's Junior Girls last night downed Nashville 23-19 in the first round of the District Tourney at Ashdown.

In a rather peculiar situation, our Juniors built up a 15-12 lead in the First Quarter, and then neither team scored throughout the entire second period.

During the Third Quarter, both teams again matched points by sinking one free toss apiece. They loosened up a little more in the final period, and Hope was out front at 23-19 at the final buzzer.

Scoring for the Girls were Debbie Connelly 11, Cindy Reese 5, and Carol Anthony 4.

The Girls won earned them a try at Gilam tonight at 6:45.

Tomorrow night's action will feature the Bobcats and their Junior counterparts in Buckaroo. The first game will be at 6:00 and the Senior game should begin at 7:00.

NEW YORK (AP)—A spectacular field for the two-mile, a blazing personal duel in the half mile and a bit of nostalgia are likely to steal the show from the traditionally featured mile run tonight in the 96th New York A.C. Games at Madison Square Garden.

The nostalgia will be provided by Princeton's Bill Bonthron, Penn's Gene Venzke and Kansas' Glenn Cunningham, who finished in a near dead heat in the NYAC Baxter mile in 1934. They'll don running clothes and jog a lap in the 30th anniversary of their race.

Jesse Owens and Harrison Dillard, who collared eight Olympic gold medals between them, also will take a turn around the Garden track.

The two-mile has a definite international flavor in this Olympic year, with entries from Canada, Australia, Ireland, Costa Rica and the U.S. Toronto's 20-year-old Bruce Kidd, who has never lost on the Garden track, could be hard pressed to defend.

The half-mile features the rematch of Villanova's Noel Carroll and Toronto's Bill Crothers, each a potential record-breaker. Crothers beat Carroll by a yard in their only other meeting this winter, clicking off an American record 1:50 in New York's Millrose Games.

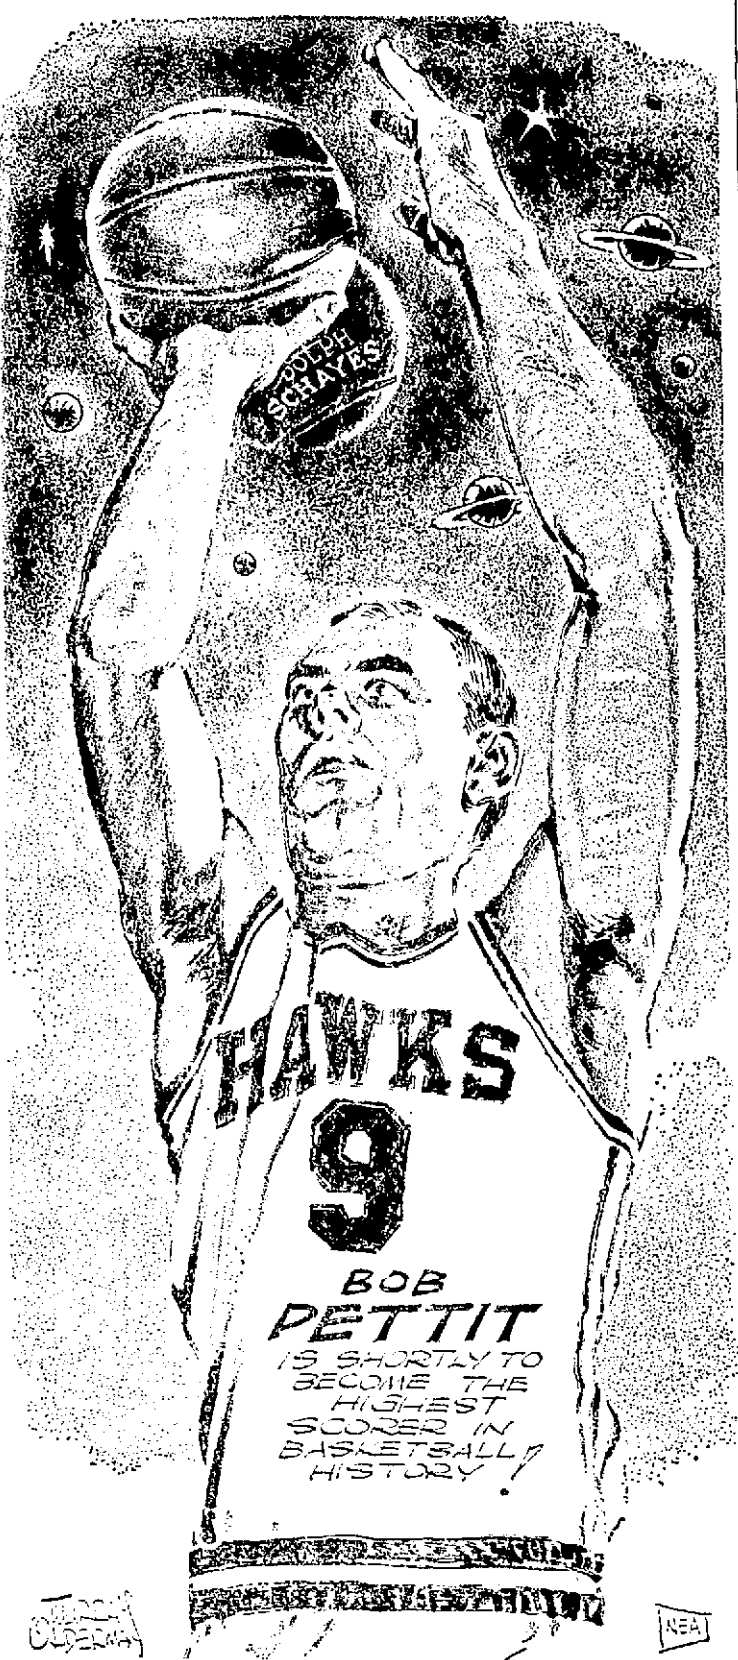

The rangy Carroll was closing fast, however, and vowed he would be under 1:50 before the season was over. He made it stand up with a spectacular 1:48.7 anchor lap on Villanova's team in Boston.

Little Tom O'Hara, the Chicagoan with the unorthodox style and the killing kick, is favored in the mile. He is unbeaten in four major mile cup races this winter, with a 4:00.6 effort in the Millrose Games.

Finley, Other Owners Seem Near a Clash

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Fiery Donohues O. Finley of the Athletics and other American League club owners appear on the way to another head-on collision after a session here Wednesday with Finley and the city still far apart over a stadium lease.

In the first collision Jan. 16 in New York, the owners flatly rejected Finley's bid to move to Louisville and by a 9-1 vote ordered him to sign a lease in Kansas City by Feb. 1 or face expulsion from the league.

The deadline was extended to Saturday, but Finley said he might take his case to court and hired Louis Nizer, famed trial attorney.

It's doubtful a lease will be signed before the deadline. The league is expected to call another meeting for next week. Finley obtained a firm commitment from Oakland, Calif. Jan. 27 and it's likely he'll ask the league for permission to move

Komives Still Leading Scorer

NEW YORK (AP)—Nick Werkman of Seton Hall and Gary Bradds of Ohio State putting on a late season surge but Howard (Butch) Komives still is the leading scorer in major college basketball.

The 6-foot-1 star of Bowling Green and Ohio is in No. 4 fourth straight week with a 34.6 average according to the latest statistics released today by the National Collegiate Service Bureau.

Guy Newsome of Western Michigan is second with a 33.1 average followed by Werkman's 31.9 and Bradds' 31.8 for a fourth place tie with Princeton's Bilt.

The club to Oakland.

The club owners doubtless will first try to get Finley and the city together on a compromise three-year pact. Finley and the owners would then seem to have only two other choices:

1. Grant him permission to move the club to Oakland.
2. Follow through with the threat to take over Finley's franchise, thereby risking a law suit.

N. Carolina Rally Catches New York U

Billy Cunningham is a wonderful basketball player but the North Carolina star does have a problem. He scores too much.

Cunningham hit 10 baskets against New York University at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, but he settled for eight. The other two drew offensive fouls and the high-scoring junior spent the last 11 minutes watching from the bench as the Violets held Offa Tar Hell rally and won 69 to 68.

NYU led by seven when Cunningham drew his fifth personal with 11:29 remaining. But instead of folding, North Carolina rallied and caught the Violets. Bryan McSweeney's bucket put UNC in front 66-65 with two minutes to play.

Then a couple of sophs pulled the willing Violets together. Carleton Rooks regained the lead on a jump shot and Stan McKenzie stole the ball and drove in for a 69-66 NYU lead.

Barry Kramer led the Violets with 22 while Cunningham's 23 topped all scorers.

Fouls also figured prominently in West Virginia's 80-84 victory over Pitt. The Panthers lost four players on personals and the Mountaineers one as 68 fouls were called.

Cal Sheffield led Pitt with 22 before fouling out with eight minutes to play. Bill Maphis' 22 topped West Virginia.

Seventh-ranked Vanderbilt rallied from a nine-point half-time deficit and then lost in overtime to Southeastern Conference rival Georgia Tech 75-71. The victory moved the Engineers into a first place SEC tie with Kentucky.

It was a costly triumph for Tech, though. High scorer R. D. Craddock took a bad tumble while driving for a basket with 1:35 left to play. Craddock, who led Tech with 20 points, flipped over and was knocked unconscious. He suffered a concussion and severe head laceration.

The point makers were also hard at work. Butch Komives of Bowling Green, the country's leading scorer with a 34.3 average had 30 as the Falcons beat Kent State 82-68. Runner-up Manny Newsome of Western Michigan hit 45 in an 81-67 victory over Toledo.

Nick Werkman, the leading scorer a year ago, contributed 37 as Seton Hall whipped LaSalle 75-68. The total increased Werkman's per game average to 32.2, third best among the majors.

Tenth-ranked DePaul narrowly escaped from upset-minded Marquette with a 72-69 victory. Jesse Nash scored 29 including the last eight points as the Demons pulled it out.

It was DePaul's 15th victory in 17 starts and Marquette's eighth straight setback in a 4-14 season.

The only other ranked team in action was Villanova and the Wildcats got a boost from Wally Jones to whip Duquesne 73-63. Jones, hurt in last Saturday's upset loss to LaSalle, scored 22 as eighth-ranked Villanova ran its record to 18-2.

Free Throws Give Win to State

MEMPHIS (AP)—Arkansas State hit 18 of 19 free throw attempts to overcome a field goal deficit and beat Christian Brothers College of Memphis 68-61 in basketball Wednesday night.

The Indians had 25 field goals—one less than CBC. Jerry Hudgins' 16 points and John Dickson's 15 led State. Bart Freihaut hit 20 for the home team.

Perry's Defeats Southern State

Perry's Truck Stop independent cagers defeated the Southern State Yanks 92 to 89 last night at Bodcaw. Wayne Loe hit for 27 as did Brint Odom, Glen Calhoun made 18 and David Brown 14 for Perry's.

Gamer had 33, Dannie Hatfield 13 and McDowell 13 for the Yanks.

Tonight in Jones Field House, Perry's will take on Lone Star of Texarkana.

Dark Thinks Giants Have Tools to Win

(16th of a series of team prospects for 1964, written under the manager's own byline)

By ALVIN DARK
San Francisco Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—I realize it will take a lot of baseball to win the National League pennant, the contention being what it is, but I believe the Giants have the tools to do a job.

I think we have a better club than the one which finished third in 1963. I'm not predicting we'll be the next champions but I feel certain we'll be in the race all the way.

Specifically, I expect the Giants to have better pitching this year. The deal with the Braves whereby we acquired Bob Shaw and Bob Hendley broadens our pitching base.

Right now, I'm counting on Hendley to join up with Juan Marichal, Jack Sanford, Billy O'Dell and Bob Bolin for our starting five.

Shaw figures to head the bullpen, consisting of Don Larsen, Jim Buffalo, and Ken MacKenzie, a left-hander whom we acquired from St. Louis.

I'm also hopeful that a couple of our youngsters, notably Ron Herbel and Bob Garibaldi, will find a place on the staff. The pair won 25 games between them at Tacoma last year.

The team batting power is something that has to please any manager. It begins with Willie Mays and he is Willie Mays all the time. Willie McCovey, still on the rise, has unlimited potential.

So, too, has Orlando Cepeda. I know Cepeda is looking forward to his best season.

Additional power should come from both catchers, Tom Haller and Del Crandall; and perhaps Jim Ray Hart, who will be our regular third baseman.

Hart and Jesus Alou, our new right-flier, significant additions to the regular line-up. We have high hopes for both. They come well recommended as hitters. Hart hit .312 and Alou .324.

If Hart can do the job at third, it will be possible to use Jimmy Davenport at second. Jesus, youngest of the Alou brothers, just might take over where his brother, Felipe, left off. Felipe is now with Milwaukee.

Rating in Smaller Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Washington of St. Louis and Assumption of Worcester, Mass. used excellent showings against major opponents as a springboard for advancement in The Associated Press small-college basketball poll this week.

Each climbed two places, Washington to fifth and Assumption to sixth. Evansville, Ind. retained a slim first place margin over Grambling of Louisiana with Pan American, Tex. holding the No. 3 spot and Hofstra moving one notch to fourth.

Evansville collected five votes for first place and 72 points in the latest balloting by a regional panel of eight writers. The Aces turned back Butler, a major team, 83-73 and Southern Illinois 94-73 to lift their record to 18-2.

Grambling polled three first place votes and 68 points. The Tigers whipped Texas Southern 91-84 for their 20th victory against a lone defeat. Pan American dropped an 87-79 decision to Toledo, another major team, for an 18-4 mark. Hofstra recorded victories against Westchester, Pa., Queens College and Wilkes and is 17-3 for the season.

Washington of St. Louis was impressive in turning back Drake, the leader of the Missouri Valley Conference, 75-68 while Assumption gave Holy Cross hard time before losing its first game of the year 75-67. The Greyhounds have won 12.

Kentucky Wesleyan tumbled three places to seventh after losing to Duquesne, another major team, 90-74. Wittenberg fell two notches to eighth despite

Hurler Gets Chuckle Out of Committee

By MIKE RATHET

Hoyt Wilhelm chuckles when he thinks of baseball's scholarly rules committee, draped over a catcher's mitt, tape measures out, trying to legislate against his success.

Wilhelm, who signed up for his 13th season in the majors will be lobbing his knuckleball up to the plate and into a king-size catcher's mitt for the last time—although he expects to be pitching for at least two more years.

A 40-year-old right-hander with the most impressive relief pitching statistics in major league history, Wilhelm became the center of a major controversy this winter when the rules makers decided to ban the over-sized mitt developed to snare his flutterball.

After announcing their decision, the rules makers relented—and decided the big mitt, 40-50 inches in circumference, could be used for the 1964 season, would be banned thereafter in favor of the standard 34-inch glove.

"I don't think it will affect me either way," said Wilhelm. "After all, I've only been throwing to the big mitt for about three years and I had some good years before it came victories over Marietta and Mount Union.

Youngstown held onto ninth place although it was set back by Gannon 78-63 following an 83-75 triumph over Lawrence Tech. Western Carolina remained 10th after beating Lehigh and Elon for an 18-4 record.

Discrimination Charged in Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attorney George Howard Jr. of Pine Bluff tried to show Wednesday that there was racial discrimination in the selection of the jury that convicted William L. Maxwell of rape and sentenced him to die.

Maxwell, 24, a Negro of Hot Springs, was convicted in Garland County Circuit Court April 5, 1962, of attacking a Hot Springs white woman on Nov. 3, 1961.

At Wednesday's hearing, Howard called all three jury commissioners, one a Negro, who selected the panel from which the Maxwell trial jury was chosen.

Cross-examination revealed that the number of Negroes in the panel was greater proportionately than the number of Negroes in the county.

The hearing was on a habeas corpus writ filed for Maxwell by Howard on Jan. 20, four days before Maxwell's scheduled execution.

U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young granted a stay of execution to provide time for a hearing on the writ, and time to make his decision on the hearing.

Barite Is Important in Arkansas

By ALVIN SCHAY

Associated Press Writer

Arkansans bragging to out-of-staters about the state's natural resources are quick to think of bauxite and America's only diamond mine, but few ever mention that Arkansas until recently led the nation in production of another mineral—barite.

And America is the world's largest producer of the mineral, which has a number of uses ranging from paint production to oil well drilling.

Back in 1939 the state was a non-producer of barite, the commercial barium mineral also known as barium sulphate. By 1944 Arkansas led the nation in barite production, even though it was, and still is, mined in only two counties — Hot Spring and Saline.

Arkansas held the top spot in production of the white, opaque to tan transparent mineral until 1962, when Missouri pushed Arkansas into the number two position.

The industry, which currently gives employment to nearly 300 Arkansans, grew in Arkansas because of the closeness to developing oilfields on the Gulf Coast.

The mineral, which comes out of the earth in rock form, is useful in oil well drilling.

In rotary drilling, the bit is rotated in a hollow central shaft. Mud is pumped down the shaft to take away cuttings, carrying them up to the surface between the outside of the central shaft and the wall of the hole.

The mud also cools and lubricates the bit and seals the wall of the hole.

In the Gulf Coast area there is an extra high pressure beneath the surface, and with mud alone the oil or gas will blow out a well.

Here's where barite comes to the mud, the gravity of the drilling fluid can be increased, thus controlling the pressures.

Since barite is a relatively common mineral (found on all continents and 18th in order of abundance in the earth's crust), a key factor in profitable mining is the distance to the area where it will be used. Transportation costs enter the picture.

All the barite produced in Arkansas is used in drilling.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines reported that in 1962 the state's barite production decreased seven per cent in quantity and 15 per cent in value. That year Arkansas produced 258,691 short tons valued at $2,232,000.

The decrease was blamed partly on a continued decline in drilling, and competition from foreign imports of barite.

Taking into account factors such as subsidies, cheaper labor and transportation costs, a foreign country shipping its barite to a Gulf Coast port may be able to sell it at lower cost than American producers.

Two companies, both based in Malvern, have been mining barite since the early 1940s. National Lead Co. employs 175, and Magnet Cove Barium Co. has just under 100 employees.

They send barite to Texas and Louisiana, and some is sold in Arkansas.

J. S. Starks, plant manager of Magnet Cove Barium, said his company sells little in the state because most of the drilling is shallow well drilling, with less gas pressures. Thus, less mud — and less barium — is needed.

Other uses of barite are as fillers in rubber, linoleum, oil cloth, concrete, brake lining and other material. A spokesman for National Lead said some Arkansas-produced barite was used during World War II in tracer bullets.

Barite is also used in the production of glass, and bleached ground barite was originally used as an adulterant for white lead paint for its high gravity. It is also used in paints as an extender pigment.

Barite also has a medical use — it goes into x-ray-proof plaster.

Jelly Beans Pelt 'Yeah, Yeah' Singers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Beatles, Britain's rock 'n' roll sensations with the ragmop hair styles, rocked the capital's teenage set who showed their appreciation by pelting them with jelly beans.

In their first live American concert—that is the way it was billed — the four singers of "yeah, yeah" music drew squeals and screams Tuesday night from some 8,000 youngsters, mostly girls, in the Washington Coliseum.

Dressed in tight gray suits with black Chesterfield collars, they twanged away on their electric guitars to the pounding drums of Ringo Starr.

All in all, it was deafening. Every time one of the boys shook his shaggy locks the audience shrieked.

Vendors sold cotton candy, peanuts and large buttons with the legend, "I love Beatles."

Also available were wigs that would allow a wearer to give a reasonable imitation of a Beatle or a shaggy poodle.

While they banged out their hit songs, the audience tossed jelly beans at the stage. In Britain jelly beans are called jelly babies. In some mysterious way they have become identified with the Beatles. Among the jelly beans were peanuts, combs and apparently anything else that came readily to hand.

After the show the Beatles helped raffie off prizes at a masked charity ball at the British Embassy. Most of the prizes were Beatle record albums.

Today they return to New York for concerts in Carnegie Hall.

Johnson Getting Those New Ideas

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—President Johnson's new idea man is getting about 500 letters a day in response to his request for ideas.

Prof. Eric Frederick Goldman of Princeton University was appointed by Johnson last week to keep new ideas flowing into the White House. The professor said he has been opening letters ever since.

In an interview Tuesday, Goldman said about 20 per cent offer impractical suggestions; 25 per cent are serious suggestions by experts in various fields; 50 per cent are good proposals from educated citizens who are not expert in the field about which they write, and the remaining 5 per cent contain personal appeals for money.

Johnson Had 75 Day Grace at Least

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — This week President Johnson passed his 75th day in the White House without any known calamities. That was the way it was with President Kennedy in his first 75 days, too.

But then the roof fell in on Kennedy. On his 85th day he headed into a major mistake, and it was self-made. That was the day the disastrous Cuban invasion got under way. And he had backed it.

Nothing like it is in sight for Johnson although critical trouble hit him earlier than Kennedy. The Panama riots which, were none of his doing.

This is a picture of the two men in their first 75 days and their problems:

Both got wide public approval for the energy they put into their job. They had this and perhaps only two other things in common.

Where President Eisenhower had operated through his staff, like a chairman of the board, Kennedy and Johnson tackled their multiple problems directly and both backed liberal programs.

Those three elements — hard work, direct attention to details, and a definite social and political viewpoint—may be considered essentials of the presidency. But there is another vital one, judgment.

Kennedy's judgment wasn't always good but he had time to make up for his mistakes. He had almost three years in which to be weighed and measured through trial and error. At his death the country seemed to think he had balanced well.

Johnson hasn't goofed badly yet, at least so far as can be seen. He'll probably make mistakes, maybe big ones, being human. But, with less than nine months before election, he doesn't have the time Kennedy did to make up for them. A couple of bad ones before November could ruin him.

Since there were more than two months between Kennedy's election and the day he took office, Kennedy had one big advantage over Johnson. He had more time to get ready, to pick his own people and prepare his programs.

The presidency just fell on Johnson. But this had its merits. He inherited a going concern. But, just because the men around him were already well known and had been appraised, it meant the nation put its entire attention on him.

This by itself would force him or anyone to extra effort since it meant everything he did, and how he did it, was being compared with Kennedy. In some ways Johnson had an advantage over Kennedy, in some not.

This country's most troublesome opponent, Premier Khrushchev, was both friendly and cantankerous with Kennedy, starting out. He has been mild and even almost self-effacing with Johnson.

He had become more agreeable in almost three years of dealing with Kennedy, particularly after Kennedy forced him to take his missiles out of Cuba. Besides, Russian economic troubles forced him to fuss more at home.

Kennedy had foreign problems in his first 75 days, but they weren't explosive for this country. Like the Congo and Algeria. But Algeria was mainly a French concern; the United Nations had to tackle the Congo.

Time-Saving Casserole

By Betty Barclay

THE new frozen vegetables with sauce make delicious short-cut casseroles. Here is a little treasure of a recipe using green peas with cream sauce in a quick and easy curry dish.

Curried Peas with Ham
1 package (8 ounces) Birds Eye Green Peas
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup curry powder
1 cup thin strips boiled ham
1 1/2 to 2 cups hot cooked rice

Place peas and milk in saucepan. Cover and bring to a boil over medium high heat. Remove from heat and stir until sauce is smooth. Add curry powder and stir until blended. Stir in ham. Cover and simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. If necessary, add additional milk. Serve over rice. Makes 3 cups curried peas with ham, enough for 2 or 3 servings.

Anti-Trouble Plan Proposed

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Fort Lauderdale again plans a varied entertainment program to keep college students out of mischief in this south Florida resort at Eastertime.

The program was instituted in 1962 to prevent a repetition of the wild Easter vacation of 1961 when hordes of beer-drinking students taunted police and were arrested by the hundreds.

If the students come in peak numbers, possibly as many as 50,000 will be here over a 15-day period.

A program mapped by civic groups provides maximum entertainment and minimum idle time. It will cost the city $15,000. Included are dances, beach parties, boat cruises, athletics and gift certificates.

All a student needs is a "hello" tag costing 25 cents.

Has Whip Hand in the Beatles

TORONTO (AP) — Britain's Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, who wants to redress Britain's trade balance with Canada, says he holds the whip hand in the situation.

He told the Empire Club Tuesday night: "If Britain needs to earn more dollars from Canada, I warn you, I shall send the Beatles."

The Beatles now are amassing dollars in the United States.

Johnson's foreign troubles were more numerous, fierier and widespread. Some of them, like the Panama crisis, directly affected this country. A coup in South Viet Nam and French President Charles de Gaulle's recognition of Red China.

These were in addition to the mutinies in Africa, the revolt in Zanzibar, civil war in Cyprus, and the old threat of war in Malaysia.

Johnson still lacks the grace and ease with which Kennedy started out. In the beginning, at least, the two presidents' speeches had a very similar and very obvious literary flourish.

They had pretty much the same men helping them.

As time went on, Johnson's talks seemed less literary, more homely, perhaps not as sharply organized.

In the long run this may be more effective than the self-conscious literary quality of the Kennedy talks and for one good literary reason: Kennedy's speeches were so deliberately literary they were sometimes corny.

New Panel Show About a 'Million'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—America's affluent society may soon have a new status symbol, a television show that may make yachts, imported limousines, chinchilla wraps and collections of French impressionist paintings as passe as bustles and congress gaiters.

It is a new panel show called "I Made a Million," which CBS will put into its Sunday night schedule starting April 5, right after Ed Sullivan's variety show.

Each week, the usual celebrity panel—names to be announced—will be called upon to guess which of several contestants is the real millionaire. The lucky winner of the round will be awarded "up to $600," the network announced in the solemn manner it reserves for important announcements.

It was only five or six years ago that television was dedicated to game shows that, by one means or another, were turning humble cobblers, cops and college instructors into men of financial substance.

By curious coincidence, the producer of "I Made a Million" will be Steve Carlin, who not so long ago was the producer of a memorable CBS quiz show called "The $64,000 Question."

Probably some millionaires will turn down an invitation to be contestants. After all, $600 is just cigar money to a millionaire.

The CBS staff may have its hands full checking the bona fides of self-confessed millionaires. The program ought to be marvelous for newly rich fellows who want everybody to know they made good. It may be helpful to the Internal Revenue Service, too.

We may be getting to a point where we have as many of these game and panel shows as we can take. Not counting the new CBS entry, there are seven evening shows in this category on the three networks and 14 in the daytime.

ABC commentators Howard K. Smith and Edward P. Morgan will team up as the network's television anchor men for the broadcasts of the political conventions next summer.

The pair performed together smoothly during the four-day emergency after President John F. Kennedy's assassination. They will be competing against tough competition—NBC's Chet Huntley and David Brinkley and CBS' Walter Cronkite.

Businessmen Just Sit Out February

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen like everyone else are used to sitting out February.

The weather can snarl production schedules and transportation and delay the start of new projects.

Industrial production, therefore, is as likely as not to drop or slacken and unemployment to rise. The post-Christmas sales have seen their heyday and any Easter buildup hopes are chilled by February's winds and snows.

Three years ago the last recession hit the bottom of the cycle in February. This time businessmen are more optimistic than then or even, than just a year ago—but for the months ahead more than for this one.

Yet, many are hoping that, weather permitting, this February won't be as slow as the month usually is, even if it does have an extra day in which to be ornery.

Just ahead is the promise of larger take-home pay—perhaps starting with the first of next month.

Merchants are counting on that to give their spring business a big push, although some wish Easter didn't come quite so early this year.

The construction industry is planning for a nice advance, once the weather lets outdoor projects get under way. Recent contract awards point to a busy spring.

And even in February some of the big wheels of industry are turning faster than usual.

Steel output is the highest since last June. And demand is exceeding earlier expectations, interpreted by most mills as assuring a busy spring.

Auto production this month is predicted to run 9 per cent ahead of last February. And this comes on top of January output that set a record for the month.

New orders for factory goods managed to rise in spite of the weather this winter and in disregard of the long uptrend in business that many feared would be leveling off. Orders for soft goods did most of the rising. This may be because merchants are counting on sales of these products getting the first big lift from the rise in take-home pay after the federal tax cut.

But manufacturers all along the line are raising their sights. This shows up in a sizable increase in recent weeks in plans of business to spend for expansion and new equipment.

This February has one thing that even the snowdrifts can't stall. Almost daily big and small corporations have been reporting pleasant increases in their profits. The reports are for the year that is past. But many have inspired raises in dividend rates. And this extra money will reach stockholders

Says State Needs Social Workers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Association of Social Workers reports a survey shows Arkansas urgently needs professionally trained social workers.

Moody Bryles, president of the Arkansas chapter of the NASW, said there were 563 social work jobs in the state, 107 of them requiring a master's degree.

Of the 107, Bryles said 40 positions are now vacant and 25 others are filled by persons not fully qualified.

A NASW committee working toward establishment of a graduate school of social work in Little Rock as part of the University of Arkansas questioned 29 agencies in the survey.

WALNUT PRUNE CAKE

It's a funny thing to say about a cake... but here's one you can really get your teeth into. It has heft. The reason is that it's stashed thick with nice chunky pieces of prunes in all their splendid sticky, tart-sweetness. And it's nut-crunchy with chopped walnuts.

The cake part itself, however, is light and moist and richly dark, one that stays fresh for days. Content with a sift of sugar on top, nothing gets in the way of the natural prune-nut flavors and the lovely taste of the cake itself.

Serve in big generous squares. It's a cake that enthalls little people and big people alike. And you'll find it fun to make. The directions are easy to follow. The result, a real prize.

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 2 eggs | 1 teaspoon baking soda |
| 1 cup sugar | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1/2 cup prune juice | 1 cup plumped, chopped prunes |
| 1 1/2 teaspoons lemon extract | 1 cup chopped walnuts |
| 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour | 1/4 cup salad oil |

Confectioners sugar

Beat eggs until light and fluffy. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Add prune juice and lemon extract. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt; add to egg mixture. Add prunes and walnuts; mix well. Stir in oil. Pour into greased and floured 9" x 9" x 2" pan. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 60 to 65 minutes. Cool 5 minutes; remove from pan. Sprinkle with confectioners sugar through a lace paper dolly.

Iron Tests for Johnson in Two Bills

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two iron tests of President Johnson's ability — compared with President John F. Kennedy's — to get what he wants from Congress will lie in what happens to two of his major programs.

These — civil rights and medical care for the aged — are Johnson's two most controversial programs, as they were Kennedy's.

dy's. Kennedy never got to first base with either of them.

There had been some preliminary action on civil rights by the time he died. Medical care remained frozen and unbudgeted in Congress for his entire presidency.

The test of Johnson's leadership with Congress is not in just getting passage of some kind of civil rights and medical care bills, if and when passed, have strength and meaning.

When Johnson took office Congress was already fiddling with Kennedy's civil rights bill and one other major program, a tax cut. Johnson at once pushed them both as his own, exactly as he had inherited them.

By the time Kennedy died last November he had already lost hope on the medical care bill for 1963. Monday Johnson sent Congress his own message on medical care, asking for its passage this year.

But — there is one thing to be noted about this Johnson message. He didn't say he was asking for exactly the same bill Kennedy proposed. It seems fair to say he was suggesting a bill somewhat similar to Kennedy's.

The heart of Kennedy's proposal had been hospital insurance based on Social Security payments. Monday Johnson said this "is clearly the best method."

But he didn't spell out any of it in detail, whereas Kennedy did in each of his messages since 1961. For instance: 90 days of hospital care with a maximum of $90 to be paid by the patient.

The Kennedy bill faced granite opposition both in Congress and from the American Medical Association. Presumably, Johnson's will, too, if he tries to get exactly what Kennedy wanted, although he nowhere said he would.

If he can get a truly meaningful medical care bill through Congress this year, it should do him good with a lot of voters in the November presidential election. There are 17.5 million people over 65 in this country.

In Johnson's less than three months in the presidency this much is clear in any comparison with Kennedy: He is far more persistent in hounding Congress for action.

But action is not necessarily achievement. It can, through compromise, turn what looked like a strong presidential program into a toothless tiger. In Congress there are two kinds of compromise.

One, resisted fiercely until made necessary by the strength or reasonableness of the opposition, still manages to retain the original legislation's basic strength.

The other is just a performance — an illusion of action — that yields right and left until the final product is more symbol than substance.

The civil rights and medical care programs should reveal before the year is out how much Johnson means to fight for legislation with teeth or how much he is willing to compromise.

He called himself a compromiser once when he explained: "I'm a compromiser and a maneuverer. I try to get something. That's the way our system works."

He compromised a lot when he was leader of the Senate. Democratic majority from 1955 until 1961 but he got a lot of legislation through, probably more than any other single member of Congress could have.

The fact that he did not spell out in detail what he wanted in a medical care bill may be a tip he is willing to compromise on this measure more than Kennedy.

In his less than three months as president, Johnson already has been impressive in handling Congress. He got Congress moving on both the tax cut and civil rights.

The Senate approved the tax cut last week. The House had already done so. It will become law shortly when the two houses iron out their differences. The House, after only nine days' debate, Monday night passed a stronger civil rights bill than Kennedy had originally asked.

The real test for Johnson on civil rights comes when the Senate tackles it, and Southern Democrats try to kill it — or to force a compromise until the bill is gutted — with a filibuster.

After that gets through, in whatever shape, Johnson can begin his fight for medical care.

Party Perfect Punch

By Betty Barclay

FEBRUARY is filled with festive days that merit celebration. On the birth dates of Washington and Lincoln, we salute our country's founders. On St. Valentine's Day, we hail Cupid's cause. For parties on any of these occasions, Cherry Berry Punch is especially appropriate, not only because of the Washington cherry tree legend, but the red of the punch is a patriotic color and one that is also appropriate for Valentine's Day.

Cherry Berry Punch

1 envelope Kool-Aid Cherry Soft Drink Mix; ½ cup sugar; 2 cups (1-pint bottle) cranberry juice; 6 cups water with ice cubes.

Combine all ingredients. Stir until instant soft drink mix and sugar are dissolved. Makes 2 quarts, or 16 servings.

Driver Perishes in Flaming Truck

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A gasoline tank truck skidded off U.S. Highway 65 near the Palm Creek bridge early today and exploded in flames, fatally burning an unidentified man believed to be the driver.

It took state Police, with aid of a pumper truck from North Little Rock, two hours and 10 minutes to put out the fire and remove the body. State Police said a charred license plate was recovered from the truck and a sign reading "DX" was on the front bumper.

The crash spilled flaming gasoline over an oval area about 75 yards in diameter. Utility lines were knocked down and traffic in the area — about 15 miles north of Little Rock — was rerouted.

Traffic was rerouted over the incomplete dirt section of Interstate 40, under construction in the area.

The truck was headed south toward Little Rock. State Police said there was no indication that another vehicle was involved.

The fire truck not equipped with foam, had little success in extinguishing the gas flames and made several trips for more water.

Exiles Seized by U.S. Coast Guard

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Coast Guard Tuesday seized the 50-foot motor vessel Arroyo and 16 heavily armed Cuban exiles apparently headed for a raid on Cuba.

The Coast Guard boarded the Arroyo near the Dry Tortugas, the group of keys where four Cuban government fishing boats and their crews were picked up Feb. 2 and accused of poaching in U.S. waters.

Newsman Watch Bomber Crash

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Two hundred newspapermen and foreign military personnel saw a B26 bomber crash in flames Tuesday night during a demonstration at Elgin Air Force Base. The crew of two perished.

John Egan of the Napa (Calif.) Register said the bomber had just completed a strafing run with its 50-caliber machine guns blazing and was pulling up when the right wing fell off.

The craft fell grotesquely to earth in an open field two miles from the shocked spectators.

The fliers were members of the first Air Command Wing of the Tactical Air Command based at Hurlburt Field, Fla.

Their names were withheld pending notification of their families.

Sunday Chicken Stew Sauced with Canned Condensed Mushroom Soup

A chicken dinner on Sunday has been an American tradition for generations. An economical meat, as well as flavorful, chicken comes to the table in many ways.

This savory chicken stew is a "snap" to prepare... cooks right on top of the stove. Canned condensed cream of mushroom soup becomes both the sauce and gravy... gives it that old fashioned, home-style flavor. The chicken pieces cook right in the soup along with carrot chunks. For the last half hour, you add a package of frozen green beans for extra color and flavor.

A complete meal-in-one the family will rave about, serve with peach halves filled with cranberry sauce and salty bread sticks. Ice cream and cookies are for dessert.

Sunday Chicken Stew

2 packages (1 pound each) frozen chicken breasts, drumsticks, thighs, or wings (thawed)

2 tablespoons flour

¼ teaspoon salt

Generous dash pepper

3 tablespoons shortening

½ cup chopped onion

¼ teaspoon sweet basil, crushed

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup

¼ cup can water

2 cups carrots cut into ¼-inch pieces

1 package (9 ounces) frozen cut green beans

Dust chicken with flour seasoned with salt and pepper. In heavy pan, brown chicken in shortening. Remove chicken; pour off excess drippings. Add onion and basil. Cook over low heat a few minutes, stirring to loosen browned bits. Blend in soup and water. Add chicken and carrots. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes; stir now and then. Add beans. Cook, 30 minutes longer; stir now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Conference Starts Fight for Players

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The signing period on school-boy football players opened in the Southwest Conference Tuesday with Southern Methodist University bringing a discordant note with charges that it was being discredited by rumors of recruiting troubles.

Coach Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist said he was prevented from signing four or five athletes who had been told that his school was on probation or would be placed on probation.

Athletic Director Mally Bell of Southern Methodist said his information was that representatives of "two or three" schools started the rumor Sunday and Monday. He added that he would file a protest with the Southwest Conference if he got sufficient evidence.

The same thing occurred last spring, Bell added.

Secretary Howard Grubbs of the Southwest Conference said there were no schools on probation and that there were no reports of alleged rules violations on file at this time.

Meanwhile, the schools were dragging in the athletes on a far-flung front.

Southern Methodist snared 11 in its first "take" with three all-stars in the group — Mike Livingston, South Oak Cliff quarterback; Jim Hagle, Corsicana fullback, and Donnie Denbow, Corsicana end.

Texas Christian came up with four, including all-state quarterback P. D. Shabay of Graham, as Coach Abe Martin made the first day's tour by helicopter—the first time this ever has been done in collegiate athletics.

End Gordon Nees of Graham, quarterback Eddie Driggers of Fort Worth Haltom and halfback Pat Alexander of Wichita Falls were the other TCU signees.

Texas signed Danny Bigbie, all-state halfback from New London, among its first day's snare.

Baylor also got an all-star when it grabbed James Green, the 200-pound Hallsville end.

Arkansas signed a couple of all-stars. Coach Frank Broyles went to Texarkana to get David Cooper, all-state Arkansas fullback from Texarkana, Ark. His assistant, Bill Pace, was at Longview to get Lindsey Roberts, Hallsville's all-state quarterback, on the dotted line.

Arkansas also reached down to Baytown for Mike Ferrell, a star guard.

Rice came up with three players — Calvin Powitzky, Pasadena tackle; Ernest Richardson, Berwick, La., tackle, and Ken Williams, Galena Park quarterback.

Texas Tech also got into the all-state parade as it signed Jerry Glover, 205-pound Dumas guard, and Phil Tucker, 220-pound Tulsa tackle. Gary Golden Stephenville halfback, Jackie Booe, Munday center, and Gene Darr, Cisco center, were other Tech signings.

Dessert Charmer

By Betty Barclay

THIS glamorous and refreshing treat is a perfect ending for a hearty family meal. A breeze to prepare with orange-pineapple flavor gelatin, it's a light and delicate dessert you can count on to brighten winter menus.

Orange-Pineapple Bavarian

1 can (1 pound) crushed pineapple; 1 package (3 ounces) orange-pineapple flavor gelatin; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1 cup boiling water; 1 cup heavy cream; 3 tablespoons sugar. Drain pineapple, measuring juice. Add enough water to juice to equal 1 cup, if necessary. Set pineapple aside. Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add pineapple juice and chill until slightly thickened. Whip the cream; fold into gelatin. Combine drained pineapple and sugar; fold into gelatin mixture. Spoon into a 1-quart mold or dessert dishes. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with orange sections or California walnuts, if desired. Makes 4 1/2 cups, or 8 servings.

One State Beats Arkansas Surge

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Col. Carl C. Hinkle, executive director of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, said Tuesday that only Texas has exceeded Arkansas' industrial surge in the past 17 years.

Hinkle told the industrial committee of the Greater El Dorado Committee Arkansas had asked to hear only his instruction about premeditation in the case. He explained that he could not read only one instruction, but could read them all, which he did with the jury's consent.

The jury stopped deliberations briefly at 6 p.m. to order dinner. The courtroom was crowded when the verdict was read, as it had been throughout the trial.

Several relatives of the late Mrs. Brazil also were in the courtroom when the verdict was read, and appeared calm.

Third of TV Shows Get Walking Nod

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is the season when a third or more of the television series get their walking papers. Such terminations inevitably cause outcries from the creators, and angry letters from television fans.

The cause celebre of the 1963-64 appears to be the Richard Boone Show, an attempt to establish a lousy lead-in like 'Redigo' and then beed every week. The show was carefully watched by the critics, who praised its intentions, though not always its execution. Alas, if the ratings are to be believed, it wasn't watched by enough of the public.

Boone was incensed when NBC dropped the show, and he is still fuming. I listened to his accusations and then offered Grant Tinker, NBC vice president for western programming, a chance for rebuttal.

Boone: "The way the cancellation was released was inexcusable. The news was leaked to the trade press. Neither I nor the sponsors were advised or consulted."

NBC: "We agree the release of the news was unfortunate, and we don't know how it got out. We certainly wouldn't do such a thing when premature printing of the information would rebound against us."

Boone: "The network's action is the most dictatorial, the rankiest I have ever encountered."

Coordinators to Handle Building

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday the state Commission on Coordination of Higher Educational Finance will administer the new federal college construction program in Arkansas.

Faubus said the Arkansas Foundation of Associated Colleges, which represents seven private colleges in the state, has approved the selection. Approval by the U.S. Department of Education is expected to be routine.

Faubus announced earlier it would not be decided what aid the state would seek under the

NBC: "Only a few months ago, we were just as enthusiastic as Dick about the show. We had to admit that it wasn't measuring up. That doesn't lessen our great respect for Dick. But it might be better if he would direct his energies toward more constructive lines."

Missing Son Is Finally Found

VALLEY STREAM, N.Y. (AP) — For six weeks, Frank O'Neill had walked miles each day in search of his mentally retarded son, James, 23, who disappeared two days after Christmas. O'Neill distributed more than a thousand posters bearing his son's picture.

"I just can't give up," he said a month ago. "He might just be wandering around. Or he might have been hurt and is in a hospital."

Sunday, two 13-year-old boys fishing in Mill Creek, near the O'Neill home in this Long Island village, snagged their lines on the body of young O'Neill.

Police said he apparently fell into the creek while taking a walk the day he disappeared.

federal program until an agency to administer it was chosen. The state commission will allocate funds on the basis of priorities to be set up under federal regulations.

Whittington Convicted, Gets 21 Years

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — David B. Whittington Jr., 19, was convicted Tuesday of second degree murder in the beating death of Mrs. Carolyn Brazil, 23, last Oct. 12.

A jury of 10 men, three of them Negroes, and two women got the case at 2:08 p.m. and returned the verdict at 7:23 p.m.

They fixed the penalty at 21 years in prison—the maximum for a second degree murder conviction. Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs set next Wednesday as the date for formal sentencing.

Whittington, pleaded innocent. He had been charged with first degree murder.

Mrs. Carolyn Brazil, a waitress and mother of three children, was found dead on a road one mile north of Hot Springs.

The defense based its case on the contention that Whittington was innocent by reason of insanity. Former Gov. Sid McMath, chief defense counsel, said he and other members of the defense staff would "get together and compare notes and see where we stand" before commenting on the possibility of an appeal.

Whittington and his parents appeared calm when jury foreman A. L. Brooks read the verdict. The defendant's father, the 18th District prosecutor, put his arm around his son.

The elder Whittington obtained permission not to prosecute his son. R. Julian Glover was named special prosecutor.

In closing arguments Tuesday, Glover said Whittington painted "one of the bloodiest pages in the history of Garland County."

McMath, closing his case in the five-day trial, said the youth should be found innocent by reason of insanity. McMath suggested that the defendant, a Navy veteran, be committed to a military hospital.

The jury interrupted deliberations from 4:06 p.m. Tuesday until 4:50 p.m. to hear Dobbs reread his instructions. They

As Modern As The World's Fair

The beautiful modern Best Foods Kitchens in the Better Living Building at the New York World's Fair will be a natural setting for this sea Scallop Salad made with real mayonnaise.

Scallop Salad
1/2 pint (1/2 pound) fresh sea scallops, washed and drained
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons real mayonnaise
2 tablespoons tartar sauce
1 teaspoon tarragon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 cup sliced celery
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
Salad greens
Green pepper strips or rings
Celery strips

Combine scallops, water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice in saucepan. Bring to boil, then simmer, covered, 2 to 5 minutes. Drain; chill. Cut scallops into quarters. Blend mayonnaise, tartar sauce, vinegar, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Toss with scallops, sliced celery and pimiento. Chill until serving time. Mound on salad greens or serve prepared salad greens. Garnish with green pepper and celery strips and sliced tomatoes as desired. Serve real mayonnaise separately. Makes 6 servings.

The big man was coming from the rest room when we pulled away. I watched through the back window and saw that he was starting after us. Gail hit the highway slowly and then picked up speed. A little later we turned off the highway on a road that didn't appear to go anywhere.

"We can't miss Mesa and all the traffic this way," Gail told me.

I watched behind us again but didn't see anybody make the turn. Twenty-odd minutes later we were heading up Scottsville Boulevard. I had no idea how we'd gotten there, but Gail had driven in swift and sure. Just short of getting into town proper, she made another detour, and before I had any idea we were so close she pulled into the parking area beside Charlton's apartment. It was hard to believe that two hours ago I had buried a murdered man.

We went into the apartment house together. Wherever Charlton had died so violently it had not been here. From a drawer in the desk in the living room she got the .45 and a box of shells. "My gun's in my room," she said, and then, "when we leave here, we'll take another car. Jack has one in a garage down the street. It's in my maiden name and I have a driver's license to match. Jack used it now and then on personal business trips, when he had to be gone over night. He never told me where."

"That must be the other things," I said.

"What other things?" "Maggie told me about Jack's foreign car and real estate businesses. She suggested there were other things."

"She would," Gail said. "I didn't kick that around. I still had a warm spot for Maggie. Couldn't get rid of it for all that I might be thinking. I said, 'Go get your gun, if you feel you have to back me up.'"

"Don't be rough, Duffey, or sarcastic either. It doesn't suit you. Jack can't bother us. Nobody's going to look for us here. Not yet. I'm going to have a shower and change my clothes. Why don't you do the same?"

"Charlton weighed close to 200 pounds," I said. "I weigh in at 165, if that's what you're thinking."

"You're about the same height."

Actually, Jack weighed closer to 180. There's a tweed in there that'll do very nicely. With a jacket on nobody can see how you've pulled in the belt. Now you wash up and have a shave. We may have to get by on our looks for some time to come."

Actually it felt good to wash. I couldn't shower with all the bandages binding my shoulder, but I sponged off the available epidermis, shaved, applied lotion, and even gave a thought to some powder for the circles under my eyes but decided you could look dissipated when you were riding around in a fancy sports car.

The white shirt Gail had laid out for me had an extra inch and a half around the collar, so I tied a loose Windsor and pulled it up to fit casually under the tabs. The gray tweed wasn't bad. The big break, however, was his shoes, a half size too large, but fine with the laces drawn tight. I tucked the gun into my belt; there was lots of room under the coat so that the big flat bulge of it wouldn't show.

Gail knocked and called out, and I told her to come in. If she hadn't spoken, the blonde would have been quite a shock. From the tips of her brown and white spectator shoes to the misty blonde shoulder-length hair, this was a girl I had never seen before—a pale blonde with too much red on her lips, color on the lids; even the scent she was using was utterly different from that of the woman I had known.

"Why don't you say something?" she asked.

"I can't believe it," "It's no pick-me-up, Duffey, and you can believe that. There are also some blue-tinted contact lenses in my purse, but I'm not used to them and if I'm going to drive..."

"It's marvelous," I said. "You're your own rival. But how, so fast?"

"When we came from Vegas, Jack and I were scared. Chet was scared too. But he'd bluffed himself so long that once he got on home ground he began to posture again. We talked and we worried. We weren't so sure that we were through running. The Cannard headlines were big in the paper. So Jack and I prepared an escape hatch. This was mine. This head of hair, for example, is the real thing, $500 worth of human hair, each strand individually threaded. It was bought the same time Jack made a fictitious sale of a Jaguar to me."

Arkansas Against WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas' four members of the House of Representatives voted against the civil rights bill Monday. The bill was approved 290 to 130 and sent to the Senate. The Arkansas members, all Democrats, are E. C. (Took) Gathings, James Trimble, Orrin Harris and Wilbur Mills.

Instant Snack

By Betty Barclay

FOR a bed-time snack, or a day-time "quick-and-easy" answer to that feeling of hunger, you'll find a Coffee Malted or a Coffee Milk Shake made with decaffeinated coffee the perfect answer.

Coffee Milk Shake
2 1/2 teaspoons Instant Sanka Coffee; 4 teaspoons granulated sugar; 2 cups chilled milk.
Combine ingredients in shaker or glass jar. Shake well by hand. Serve in tall glasses. Makes 2 servings.

Coffee Malted Milk
1 tablespoon Instant Sanka Coffee; 2 teaspoons granulated sugar; 2 tablespoons malted milk powder; 2 cups chilled milk.
Combine all ingredients in glass jar or pitcher. Shake or stir well to blend. If desired, top each serving with a spoonful of vanilla ice cream. Makes 2 servings.

he will take whatever time is necessary.

There is another point, too, about the President's many meetings: he tends to observe the chain of command, dealing with top people in a department or agency.

Both Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara see more of Johnson than they did of Kennedy. Several contacts a day are not uncommon.

Outside the official family, Johnson maintains an impressive array of contacts: with businessmen, labor leaders, civil rights partisans, local political leaders and the press. Many come for lunch and, to their surprise are invited to stay for first a dip in the White House pool.

Johnson is an ardent wooer of all groups that influence public opinion. He sees them, phones them, dines them.

All this consultation takes

Italian Workers Suspend Strike

ROME (AP)—Italy's striking hospital workers suddenly suspended their walkout and went back to work Tuesday.

The 12,000 hospital workers—pharmacists, doctors' assistants and medical aides—ended their planned three-day walkout a day early on an appeal from Health Minister Giacomo Mancini.

time, and Johnson may leave his office any time between 7 p.m. and midnight—occasionally later. After dining with his family, or with guests, he may go to his bedroom about 10 or 10:30 p.m. to do some more reading. Or he may summon a medical corpsman from the White House staff to give him a rubdown.

Thus ends the longest day in Washington.

Bids Taken on Co-Op Station

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Apparent low bids were submitted Monday on three phases of work on the Carl E. Bailey election Generating Station which Arkansas Electric Co-operative Corp. will build near Augusta.

Riley Stoker Corp. of New Orleans submitted a bid of $2,337,178 for the facility's boiler, and Foster Wheeler Corp. of Livingston, N.J. submitted a bid of $258,340 to provide a surface condenser.

Apparent low bidder on subsurface investigation at the plant site was Bruce - Williams Laboratories of Joplin, Mo., at $15,104.

Construction of the plant is expected to start in early spring with completion scheduled for mid-1966. The Rural Electrification Administration has approved a $22.5 million loan for the project.

Johnson Is Early Riser, Hard Worker

Second of a three-part series. By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—As a boy, Lyndon B. Johnson was often awakened at 4:30 a.m. by having one bare foot twisted by his father's impatient hands.

"Git up, Lyndon!" the father's words were as sharp as the sudden twinge of the ankle. "Every other boy in town already has a half-hour's head start on you!"

Few men in Washington get a half-hour's head start on the President, and few work later. The key fact about Johnson's work pattern is that he seldom stops working—even when he's socializing. Work and relaxation go hand in hand.

On an average morning, Johnson is awake by 6:30 a.m. A lifetime of habit makes it difficult for him to sleep later. By 6:45, the President's aide and official shadow, Jack Valenti, is at the White House, prepared to go over the day's schedule and give Johnson a briefing on secret intelligence from around the globe.

After the intelligence briefing, the first order of business is a look at the day's schedule. How should the President handle each visitor or visiting delegation? What does he want to tell them? What does he want to learn from them? Johnson and Valenti, shuffling through folders of neatly filed memos on each appointment, decide the day's strategy.

Then comes the "reading hour," which may stretch to nearly two hours. There are special studies, intelligence reports, diplomatic cables and memoranda from various agencies.

Like the late President John F. Kennedy, Johnson is a fast reader. His assistants say he has "a blotting paper memory" for key facts.

Newspapers are a major part of the President's morning reading. He thumbs through seven or eight of them, including the Washington Post, Baltimore Sun, New York Times, New York Herald Tribune, New York Daily News, Chicago Tribune and Philadelphia Inquirer. The list is limited only by the number available at dawn.

The President skims the paper, looking in particular for prime news or for dispatches, columns and editorials concerning his own activities.

Like many a president, Johnson attaches great importance to the things that reporters and pundits write about him. If an article strikes him as favorable — "objective," he would say — Johnson is delighted. He has been known to venture into the White House lobby, where newsmen congregate, to bestow personal congratulations on a startled reporter. If the printed word is displeasing, the writer may get a personal phone call from the President, who does not hesitate to suggest amendments.

His reading completed, Johnson is ready for breakfast: a half melon and a cup of tea. The menu seldom varies.

Sometimes Johnson remains in the White House living quarters for an hour or two after breakfast, seeing top officials or calling them on the telephone. Johnson lives with the telephone, using it to quiz department heads, cajole members of Congress, or surprise casual acquaintances.

On a usual morning, Johnson is in his oval office about 9:30 a.m., ready for appointments.

With many presidents, the appointments schedule has been semisacred. Visitors have moved in and out according to the timetable.

For Johnson, a schedule is something to exercise the imagination. Some appointments will be delayed, postponed or canceled. Others will be added.

While one man waits 30 minutes to see Johnson another may find a 10-minute appointment stretching into an hour. If Johnson wants to make a point, or engage in a thorough discussion of a topic he judges important,
